PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT

Was the Guest Of the Union League.

AT PHILADELPHIA

Their Anniversary Banquet in Honor of Founder's Day.—His Address Was a Notable one and He Spoke on Topics of the Day.

GIVEN ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION.

Philadelphia, January 31.—President Roosevelt was the guest of honor and principal speaker last night at the forty-second anniversary banquet of the Union League. The president came to this city over the Pennsylvania railroad from Annapolis, where he attended the exercises yesterday afternoon, incident to the graduation of the senior class of cadets. An immense throng greeted Mr. Roosevelt at the railroad station and he received an ovation on his way to the Union league, which he acknowledged by continually raising his hat. At the club house he passed through two lines of cheering members to the reception room, where from 6:15 until 7 o'clock he stood and shook hands with several hundred prominent citizens. The first troop, Philadelphia City cavalry, acted as the president's escort while he remained in the city.

The banquet was a marvel of the decorator's art. The national colors predominated in the floral and electrical effects and the tables were designated by letters tied in white and blue, forming the name "Roosevelt."

Former Postmaster General Smith was also one of the speakers of the evening. His address was devoted to a history of the Union League.

In introducing President Roosevelt, Mr. Stotesbury referred to him as the only vice president who, having succeeded to the office of president through the death of his predecessor, retained that office by the votes of the people.

When President Roosevelt arose to make his address he was greeted with long continued applause. Then the entire assembly stood and sang the "Star Spangled Banner" accompanied by the First regiment band, National Guard of Pennsylvania.

Letters of regret were read from Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house, and Governor Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania.

To Please the Women.

The Pittsburg Dispatch has beyond all doubt solved the problem of pleasing the women. Commencing Sunday, February 5, The Dispatch will increase the size of the paper by adding an entirely new six-page 42-column section which will be a delight to the hundreds of thousands of women who read that paper and which, if possible, will make it more popular than ever. It is by far the most pretentious woman's section ever incorporated into a Sunday newspaper. Expense has been a secondary consideration with The Dispatch, its one purpose being to furnish something that will be just what women like. The Dispatch has succeeded in doing this and the large increase in its circulation which is bound to result from the new section will evidence its success. Those who secure a copy of next Sunday's edition can judge for themselves, for it is not possible to give a faint idea of the delightful, entertaining features which will make up The Dispatch's New Woman's section.

—President Roosevelt has refused a pardon for Frederick Barker, of Somerset who is serving a life sentence in San Quentin, California, having been convicted of deserting the marine guard of the cruiser, Charleston, joining the rebels in the Philippine insurrection and giving information to the enemy and fighting against his flag.

Russia's Cowardly Czar.

Collier's for Feb. 4 refers to the Czar as a coward, and speaking of Russia's future says:

The present Czar's grandfather was a man in whom liberal intentions alternated with panic, stupidity, and cruelty. After he had freed the serfs he became reactionary. Finding that the people expected further progress, and that progress meant arrogance, he became querulous and was blown to heaven in 1881. His weakness, like that of the present unfortunate, might almost as well have been malice. Nicholas II, like his grandfather, has had intentions which have only served for paving stones. These two rulers have neither strong enough to succeed as tyrants nor strong enough to keep a tactful progress just ahead of public discontent. The stricken peasants whom the Czar has slaughtered are victims of his feebleness. The weakness of the ruler is visited on the people. Alexander III, father of the present Czar, was a stronger man than Alexander II or than Nicholas. He lacked their intermittent and fragmentary dreams of progress, but he had brains and character enough to get along in some comfort in the status quo. The war undoubtedly has made it harder for Nicholas, but he has already thoroughly shown how dangerous a petulant weakling must be in his difficult position. An eloquent and fearless man could probably have outwitted and pacified the people for a long time by receiving their petition, assuring them his sympathy, but declaring that the one thing which they must do, before any radical changes could be undertaken, was to bring Russia victorious from the present war. More dash might have done as much as that. Intelligence and knowledge of these times would have granted changes so quietly that this convulsion would never have occurred. The Russians are a patient, loyal, spiritual people, who could be led to liberal government with smoothness and without extremes, had the autocrat happened to be of more fitting stock than the present house of Romanoff. So moderate and simply wise are the Russian people that a long series of extremes in spasms is impossible. Liberty will come to Russia, and come at an increasing speed, but there will be no more violence in its approach than is made necessary by the cowardice or shallow ignorance of her rulers.

More Money for Renovo Railroad Improvements.

Among the appropriations recently made by the Pennsylvania railroad is one for $50,000 for the motive power department of the shops at Renovo and Olean, this sum to be used for additions and improvements.

Additions have been completed to the shops at Renovo and $300,000 will be spent in fitting up the new shops in the various departments, including a portion for tools.

At Olean $50,000 will be invested in addition to store rooms, machine and locomotive repair shops. This appropriation for Renovo and Olean is in line with the plan to extend facilities of this sort by the Pennsylvania system. Altoona has received a goodly share of the money devoted to this purpose in the past two years and the company is not through there yet.

An Explosion on Bishop St.

Mr. John Sharp, manager of the shirt factory, came near having a serious accident happened to him on Sunday morning. Mr. Sharp came down stairs at the usual time to make the fire for breakfast, and after turning the spigots and finding the water not frozen, he lit the fire and after putting on the coal he turned his back to the stove to wash his hands, when an explosion occurred: The stove was shattered to small pieces, the window was broken clear out, and the room was greatly damaged by the flying pieces of iron. Mr. Sharp escaped unhurt, which was miraculous, as he was standing within two feet of the stove when the explosion happened, and his trousers were slightly torn. It is not know exactly what caused the explosion, but it is thought, it was on account of the water being frozen in the water-back.

New License Bill Introduced.

Senator F. A. Godcharles, of Northumberland, and Representative Charles A. Snyder, of Schuylkill, Wednesday simultaneously introduced a bill into the senate and house, providing for taking the granting of licenses out of the hands of the judges in counties having between 30,000 and 300,000 inhabitants. The bill provides that the license shall be granted by an excise board to be appointed by the governor.

Conferees: West Ward—J. Thomas Mitchell, Thomas McCafferty, David Haines. North Ward—E. R. Chambers, J. L. Montgomery, Harry Stevenson. South Ward—J. S. Knisely, Geo. Sherry, and John Morgan.

Dr. Gray's Will.

The will of the late Rev. Edward J. Gray, of Williamsport, was filed Friday afternoon at the office of the register of wills. It leaves all his property to the members of his family. In the will proper provisions are made for two scholar ships in the seminary, one to bear the name of "The Edward J. Gray Scholarship" and the other "The Eva V. Gray Scholarship." In a codicil to the will, however, the provision for the latter is recalled and it is left to the pleasure of Eva N Gray whether the scholarship is established or not. One thousand dollars is left for each.

New Trolley Line.

Clearfield and Curwensville will have an electric road in the near future in which Clearfield capital is largely interested. The company also contemplate extending their road from Clearfield to Philipsburg, thus connecting these three towns. The work of grading, etc., may begin early in the spring. Hyde city will also be touched by this line. No doubt cars will be running about the latter part of next summer.

THEODORE F. VANSCOYOC.

Well-Known Engineer on Bald Eagle Valley is Dead.

Thomas F. VanScoyoc died at the family home in Tyrone at one o'clock Saturday morning. He was ill one week and suffered from an attack of pneumonia. He was aged 68 years, 4 months and 25 days.

Theodore Frelinghuyson VanScoyoc was born at Charlottsville, three miles west of Tyrone, on Saturday, September 3, 1836, and grew to manhood in the community. He was the son of Thomas and Elender VanScoyoc, both of whom died many years ago. Three brothers and three sisters are dead also, the last one to die being William E. VanScoyoc, who passed away at the home of the only surviving brother, Abram VanScoyoc, on Tuesday of last week. On December 28, 1864, T. F. VanScoyoc and Miss Isabell Holter were united in marriage. Mrs. VanScoyoc survives her husband with the following sons and daughters: Mrs. H. D. Cree, of Tyrone; Mrs. A. H. Griffith, of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. H. L. Camp, of Pittsburg; Thomas J. VanScoyoc, of Niagara Falls; Miss Virginia, Harry A. and Lloyd E., at the family home in Tyrone.

The deceased entered the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad company in the year 1852, and his connection with the road was practically continuous until the present. He was a rodman in the civil engineer corps that surveyed the route of the Tyrone and Clearfield and Bald Eagle Valley railroads. His first service with the Pennsylvania company was on the middle division, but when the Tyrone division was opened to traffic he became a fireman on that division and later was promoted to engineer in which capacity he served to the end of his life. His last position was that of engineer of the Tyrone crew, valley local freight. In this place he had served the past eight or ten years. He was a careful, competent and popular railroader. The funeral took place Monday afternoon.

Half a Million to Help Consumptives.

It is learned from the Philadelphia Record that Senator Scott will shortly introduce a bill into the Legislature that has been indorsed by the department of public health and charities to appropriate $500,000 for the establishment in Franklin county of a forest reserve of from 500 to 1,000 acres in extent to be devoted to the care and cure of consumptives.

Dr. Robert N. Wilson Jr., son of Judge Wilson, has prepared the bill by direction of the Philadelphia County Medical society and that organization stands pledged to assist any other organization in urging its passage. Director Martin warmly advocates the legislation, and declared that 75 per cent. of tuberculosis cases are curable if they are given proper attention.

"The County Medical Society," he said, "adopted a resolution to petition the legislature to appropriate not less than $500,000 for the establishment of camps, sanatoria hospitals and dispensaries, for consumptives, and to set aside a portion of State Forestry Preserve for use in the care, study and treatment of tuberculosis. A committee of three was appointed to urge the matter in connection with any similar committees of other societies. Tuberculosis is responsible for one-seventh of the deaths in Pennsylvania and the victims of the disease are mostly among the poor. It is estimated that there are constantly 1,250,000 cases of consumption in the United States. More than 100,000 persons die annually in the United States of consumption, or about 300 daily. Dr. Jacoby estimates that tuberculosis kills more than does croup, diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlatina, measles and typhoid fever combined. In Pennsylvania there are approximately from 20,000 to 50,000 cases of tuberculosis, and from 8,000 to 10,000 die annually of the disease in this State, and 3,000 in that city. A minimum of 25 cases daily, it is estimated, die in this State, which, if treated in time, are curable."

Largest Diamond Found.

Johannesburg, Transvaal, Jan. 30.—The largest diamond ever discovered has been found near Pretoria. The stone weighs 3032 carats and is said to be a pure white diamond of good quality. It is locally valued at $3,500,000 to $4,000,000. The famous Kohinoor, which is valued at $600,000, weighs 128 carats, through it is said to have weighed 900 before it was cut. There is immense excitement here and at Pretoria as a result of the discovery.

BUTTER MAKER—A position wanted in a creamery or on a milk route by an expert milk tester or butter maker. At liberty after March 1st. Apply to this office. D and W 1-w.

HISTORY OF POTTER FAMILY

Including Sketch of Gen. James Potter

AND HIS DESCENDANTS

One of the Pioneer Families of Central Pennsylvania—Of Scotch Descent and Came to this Country in 1741.

MANY PROMINENT MEMBERS.

(By Dr. Thomas C. Van Tries.)

Apologies are commonplace. Perhaps they are, generally, out of place; yet the writer begs pardon for offering a word of explanation by way of introduction.

History, in its literal sense, is the compilation and classification of historic facts.

The facts in the following sketch have been gathered with much care from various sources, each one of them being regarded as entirely authentic and reliable. The writer especially takes pleasure in acknowledging himself to be very largely indebted to that prince of local historians, the late Hon. John Blair Linn, for numerous extracts from his learned and elaborate "History of Centre and Clinton Counties." Also for many facts gathered from his "Annals of Buffalo Valley." In fact, we have in several instances followed his text very closely. His intimate acquaintance with the Colonial Records of Pennsylvania had eminently qualified him for this work.

The writer is also under special obligation to the surviving members of his family for free access to his extensive library of rare historical works. Many important items have also been gathered from various other sources.

John Potter, the father of Gen. James Potter, was a native of Tyrone, Ireland, born of Scotch parentage in 1705. He and his wife came to America with John Hamilton and Isabella Potter Hamilton, a sister of Mr. Potter, in 1741, "aboard ye goode ship Dunnegal," landing at Newcastle, Delaware, in September of that year. He first located near the site of the present town of Shippensburg, Pa., but was settled in Antrim township, near Greencastle, in what is now Franklin county, Pa., as early as 1746. On October 6, 1750, he was commissioned first sheriff of Cumberland county, which was organized the same year. He was again commissioned sheriff for a second term in 1753 or 1754. He died about 1758. His wife died at the home of her son, Gen. James Potter, at Middle Creek, now in Snyder county, Pa., after the runaway of 1778.

The general impression among the descendants of John Potter has been that his residence in Ireland was upon the banks of the Foyle river. Recent researches, made by Mr. G. O. Seilhamer, who went to Ireland some three years ago, as the agent of Hon. Thomas R. Bard, United States Senator from California, to look up the ancestry of the Bard, Potter, and Poe families, resulted in his discovering upon the records in Dublin the marriage in 1726, of a John Potter to Catharine Crozier, by Rev. Baptist Boyd of the diocese of Clagher. These parties belonged to the region of the Blackwater river, which is much nearer Dublin, and probably 150 miles from the banks of the Foyle.

The children of Sheriff John Potter were Thomas, who was captured with Richard Bard and killed by the Indians; James, Samuel, Anne, Catharine, Mary, Hannah and Isabella. It is impossible at this distant day to give their names in the order of their birth.

(1) Samuel, son of Sheriff Potter, married Susannah Poe, half-sister of Capt. James Poe, of Antrim township.

Their children were (1) John, who lived and died in Mercer county, Pa.; (2) Thomas, (3) Martha, who married William Hill, father of State Senator Hill of Westmoreland county, Pa.; (4) Annie, married Robert Brown, father of Dr. S. P. Brown of Greensburg, Pa.; Mrs. Brown, Sr., was a sister of Mrs. Fannie Bruce Campbell, wife of Gen. Charles S. Campbell, a brave soldier, and cousin of the writer. (5) Catharine, married Capt. James Carnahan of the 8th Pennsylvania (1776), father of Rev. James Carnahan, D. D., L.L.D., who was President of Princeton College from 1823 to 1854.

(2) Catharine, daughter of Sheriff Potter, married James Carothers, and her sister (3) Hannah, married John McMillan. These two families removed to Westmoreland county at an early date.

From bequests made by Gen. James Potter in his will to several of his nephews, we learn that his sister (4) Anne, married a Young, his sister (5) Isabella, a Jordan, and his sister (6) Mary, a Beard. He also mentions in his will, "John Latimer, son of my sister, Margaret Latimer." He here undoubtedly refers to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret Latimer, of Philadelphia. The use of the term sister for sister-in-law has always been very common among relatives, as everybody knows.

Gen. James Potter, son of Sheriff John Potter, was born in Ireland in 1729, and was about twelve years of age when he landed with his parents at Newcastle, Delaware. He had no advantages of education, but fine natural abilities and great energy overcame that want. He, early in life, evinced a military spirit, and soon became conspicuous in Indian warfare. At twenty-

IN THE SUPREME COURT.

Official Decree in Regard to the Green-Dillen Case.

The decree of the Supreme Court in regard to the cases of Ira Green and William Dillen, convicted of the murder of Turnkey Jerry Condo, has been received in Bellefonte and is as follows:

Filed Jan, 23rd, 1905.

Per Curiam:

The evidence in these cases does not raise the slightest doubt about the guilt of the appellants, or the degree of it, the fairness of their trial, or the correctness of the rulings of the trial Judge on the law as applicable to the evidence.

The specifications of error are all of them immaterial and most of them frivolous. So far as the points raised would justify notice they are sufficiently discussed in the opinion of the Court below refusing a new trial.

The judgments are affirmed and the records remitted for purpose of execution.

Death of Philip Sebring.

A gloom has settled down upon the little village of Sandy Ridge, the result of the very sad death of Philip Sebring, which occurred Wednesday afternoon about 2 o'clock in one of the fire clay mines operated by the Sandy Ridge Fire Brick Co., near that place. His death was instantaneous, and was caused by the premature fall of a rock weighing about six or seven tons, under which he was buried.

The deceased says the Philipsburg Journal, whose age was about 40 years, has resided at Sandy Ridge three or four years, and was one of the very best men in the town—honest, upright, clever and held in the highest esteem by the entire community. He is survived by his heart broken wife, who is a daughter of William Miller of Bald Eagle valley, and who will have the deepest sympathy of many friends in her sorrow.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Oscoola.

Death of Miss Mollie Harper of Unionville.

Miss Mollie Harper, a highly respected maiden lady of Unionville, died at her home in that place Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock of a complication of diseases.

The deceased was born in Boggs Twp., and was the daughter of John P. and Harriet Harper. She never married and of late years has made her home with her brother. She was a conscientious christian lady and a member for many years of the Methodist church. She had passed the 70th milestone in life's journey and always enjoyed the love and respect of all who knew her.

She is survived by two brothers, John P., of Lock Haven, and W. T., of Unionville.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 12 o'clock noon today conducted by Rev. Piper, of Milesburg. The remains will then be brought to Bellefonte on the 1:25 train and interred in the Union cemetery.

Death of William Scholl.

William Scholl, who had been ill for several months from rheumatism and other ailments, died Friday morning Jan. 20th at his home east of Centre Hall, on the Harper farm. Interment was made Monday at the Union church cemetery, near Farmers Mills, Rev. J. M. Rearick, pastor of the Lutheran church and to which organization Mr. Scholl had recently been admitted, officiating. The age of the deceased was almost sixty-three years.

Mr. Scholl was of a retired disposition, and spent his entire life at hard toil on the farm. He is survived by a widow, whose maiden name was Rebecca Gephart, a native of Zion, and two children—John O. Scholl, of Altoona, and Sarah, wife of S. S. Kreamer, of Centre Hall.

The following brothers and sisters also survive: George, of Houserville; Thomas, of Aaronsburg; James, of Farmers Mills; Mrs. Lavina Shaffer, of Zion, and Mrs. Lucina Weaver, who made her home with the Scholl family.

Death of Mrs. Anna Jack Christian.

Mrs. Anna Jack Christian died at Eureka Springs, N. Y., Thursday morning. She will be remembered in Bellefonte as the widow of the late Thomas R. Reynolds. She had been ailing for some time but her death was rather unexpected. She was born at Boalsburg, Centre County and was the daughter of George and Mary Thompson Jack.

The funeral took place Monday. Interment at Lewistown.

Late George S. Strong an Eminent Inventor.

The following particulars of the death of George S. Strong is gleaned from The Press-Republic of Springfield, Ohio. Deceased married Miss Eva Simpson, of Lock Haven, and it will be seen that he was an inventor of considerable note. The paper says:

"George S. Strong, aged 53, a native of Clark county, and an inventor of considerable renown, died Monday about noon in a hospital in Cincinnati and his body was brought to this city for funeral and burial. The services will take place at the Central Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. C. L. Conger, officiating.

"Mr. Strong was the inventor of the first windmill manufactured in Springfield and made by the Superior Drill company. He was also inventor of the locomotive engine that bears his name. In 1890 he gave a complimentary excursion to Cincinnati to about 200 Springfield business men, in honor of his engine which furnished the motive power. He was a member of the American Society of Engineers of New York.

"He is survived by his wife, who has been living in Lock Haven, and one brother, William Strong, of near Donnelsville.

Mr. Strong's death was due to intestinal grip and peritonitis. He was taken ill in the Grand hotel, Cincinnati, a month ago and died in the hospital there."

Coughs, Colds and Constipation.

Few people realize when taking cough medicines other than Foley's Honey and Tar, that they contain opiates which are constipating besides being unsafe, particularly for children. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates, is safe and sure and will not constipate, For sale by C. M. Parrish.

Death of Mrs. A. M. Laporte.

Mrs. Myla B. Laporte, wife of A. M. Laporte Esq., died at her home in Tyrone on Friday morning 27th. inst.

Mrs. Laporte was the only daughter of Mr. George B. Porter, who of late years made his home with her family, and grand-daughter of Mr. John Lyon, the founder of Pennsylvania Furnace. Her mother died in her childhood. She leave two brothers, Mr. John L. Porter of Tyrone, and Rev. Wm. L. Porter of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Mrs. Laporte was a woman of marked individuality, and could not be a negative character in any community in which she lived. She was an active and efficient worker in the Presbyterian church of which she has been a member for more than thirty years. She was also for several years Secretary of the Home Missionary Society of the Presbytery of Huntingdon. She was always active and efficient in every good work in which she engaged. She did much in the earlier years of her christian life to promote spirituality and worship among the humble poor, by leading them in the service of song.

The writer has known her from her childhood, and takes pleasure in paying this brief tribute to her christian character, and her efficiency in the home life.

Mrs. Laporte left no children, but her aged father and her husband survive to lament her absence from the home circle. Her funeral took place on Monday afternoon. Interment at Alexandria.

No More Suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thompson, of Spencer, Ia., says: Have had Dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago, and even went to Norway with the hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good, and I can heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or Dyspepsia should use it. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Premiums for Bug Scalps.

A novel plan has been adopted by the superintendent of the Westmoreland county almshouse at Greensburg, to rid the institution of an annoying pest. The home has been overrun with bugs that bite early, late and often, and there were not a few complaints from inmates. Superintendent Evans instead of spending the county's funds in buying powder, decided to offer a bounty on the bug "scalps" so he posted the following notice one day recently: "For each and every dozen bugs captured and delivered, dead or alive by the inmates of this home to the superintendent's office a bounty of three cents will be paid. Delivery must be made before 9 a. m. on the day of capture."

The hundred inmates spent a very busy and profitable night though they lost their sleep. Several scores of scalps were laid on the table next morning and the cash was forked over to the industrious people. The work is still in progress, the success of the plan exceeding expectations. The bounty is to be continued indefinitely, and it is confidently expected that all the bugs alive in a month from this date will have an existence somewhere else than in the Westmoreland county almshouse.

A Practical, Helpful Farm Paper.

To the Editor of The Tribune Farmer.

Sir: Again I greatly appreciate the fact that I can come to you for advice. I would wish that all the farmers fully estimated the value of the New-York Tribune Farmer. It appears to me a choice periodical of its kind, rich in all its departments, but especially so in all that pertains to veterinary science. I have been a subscriber and reader of quite a long list of agricultural papers, but to me the New-York Tribune Farmer brings more real, practical, helpful assistance than any I have ever read. There may be others as good, or better, papers for the farmer, but I have failed to discover them as yet. Yours very truly,

CHARLES S. BODMAN.

Gouverneur, N. Y., Nov. 29; 1904.

Through a special agreement with THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE FARMER we will send it with the Republican both papers, one year, for $1.00. Send your name and address to the Republican, Bellefonte, Pa.

America's Foreign Policy.

Every American citizen is concerned in the future foreign policy of our Government. To understand the moves upon the political chess-board, everyone should inform himself about our insular possessions, our relations with Cuba, the Monroe doctrine, the provisions for the government of the Panama Canal zone and the transfer of canal property, the Chinese Commercial Treaty, President Roosevelt's proposed peace conference, arbitration treaties with foreign powers, the Russo-Japanese war, reciprocity treaties and arguments, and kindred topics set forth with terseness and accuracy in the Standard American Annual—The 1905 World Almanac and Encyclopedia. To be had of your newsdealer for 25 cents, or mailed to any address in the United States for 35 cents.

The Virtues of Vin-Te-Na...

Your knowledge of the workings of the "human machine" no doubt makes you aware of the fact that the nervous system is fed and sustained by and through the blood.

When the blood is chargedwith the elements which nature designed, the entire nervous system and all the organs are kept in a healthful state.

Without the force which the nerves absorb from the blood, both brain and body are poor machines. Vin-te-na contains just those elements which are wanting in impoverished, poor blood. It was found on both common sense and scientific knowledge. It has conscience and integrity back of it. Vin-te-na is the one medicine that does precisely what it was designed to do, i. e. gives life and nerve-food to the blood. It actually cures every one of those disorders which come from impoverished blood.

CZAR'S TROOPS OPEN FIRE!

And Kill Many Strikers at Riga and Other Points.

SOLDIERS ATTACKED

By Workmen Who Attempted to Disarm Them—St. Petersburg and Moscow Temporarily Tranquil.

FACTORIES AND WORKSHOPS CLOSED.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 27.—(2 a. m.)—Although the strikes in Riga and Odessa and a few smaller places are extending, the situation is nowhere acute. Increasing numbers of workmen are out in Moscow, but their is no general tie up or disorder there. The whereabouts of Father Gopon still remains a mystery, although it is believed the priest is in Moscow.

The Russian capital presents almost a normal appearance, and the authorities are confident that the back bone of the strike has been broken. Some factories and mills have already resumed, and a general resumption of operations is expected on Monday. The authorities expect that the failure of the strike here will have a discouraging effect upon the workmen in other cities to which the troubles have been spreading, and believe that there is no longer danger of a complete suspension of all the industrial concerns of Russia.

Minister of the Interior Sviatoolk Mirsky has promised a delegation of editors who called upon him that he will investigate the arrest of a number of prominent writers who are now confined in the St. Peter and St. Paul fortress and secure release as soon as possible.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegraph company from Riga confirms the previous announcement between strikers and troops. Thirty workmen were killed or wounded and a substitute call for police was made.

The encounter occurred near the Tukkum railroad station. The strikers attacked the troops and attempted to disarm them when the order was given to fire.

All the workshops and factories are closed. The strikers are parading the streets and forcing all workmen to join in the procession.

A dispatch to a news agency from Riga, Russia, filed at 5:30 p. m., says the strikers in the factories there today attempted to enter the town but were opposed by troops, who killed or wounded many persons. The strikers were dispersed.

TORCH USED IN ST. PETERSBURG.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg, timed 9:26 p. m., to a news agency, reports that Pahl's factory and a large cotton mill have been set on fire and are burning fiercely.

A Passenger Train Narrowly Escapes a Wreck.

On Thursday evening as the 4:44 passenger train on the Bald Eagle road was coming into Bellefonte they ran into an open switch at the round house which carried them back almost to the glass works site before the train was stopped. As is customary the train was backing into Bellefonte and as they were forty minutes late they were running faster than usual in order to make up lost time. The passengers were considerably shaken up before the train stopped but no one was injured or no damage doue.

They are putting up a new engine house at this point and for several nights past one of the engines had been left standing on this siding that the 4:44 ran in on. Luckily however on this occasion the engine was left standing on another track or otherwise there would have been a serious wreck.

A Young Girl Drowned Herself Because Another Girl Talked About Her.

The gossip is one of the worst "things" that inhabits the face of the globe. The community where his satanic majesty in this form has his staying place—a true home does not contain a leper of that sort—is worse off than if it was infested with malignant smallpox or any other physical pest. The Sunbury Item says that Miss Dillie Maurer, the only child of Mrs. Mary Maurer, a widow, committed suicide by drowning herself in the North Branch of the Susquehanna river near Dunham's Run, Northumberland county. Monday morning about 8 o'clock. She and her mother resided in Sunbury, and both worked in a cap factory. On the way to work Monday the girl left her mother, saying she was going to the postoffice. There she wrote a note which was found on her body, stating that she drowned herself because a girl in town talked about her. The name of the girl was stated in the note, but the paper withheld it. It should have been printed in type as black as the gossip's heart and heralded broadcast as a lesson to all persons afflicted with gossip cancer under whose eyes it might come, with the hope that it might purge them of the filthy, foul, leprosy-eating habit.

The body was found and carried to the mother's home, where an inquest was held, the result of which we do not know, but the jury ought to have recommended the arrest and trial of the gossip for impregnating the community with poison so deadly as to take the life of the innocent girl at whom she aimed the arrow of destruction. The girl was aged about 16 years and her mother is almost frantic over the sad death of her only child, with whom she was doing her best to make her home pleasant, but the gossip passed the portals of the sacred domicile and made it a deserted, lonely abiding place for the most sorely bereaved widow parent. The gossip is a cancer on the community that be cut out with a knife so sharp and penetrating that not a root would be left to resprout and reinfect the community wherein the operation was performed. The gossip is the meanest kind of a citizen, no matter what the sex.

May Tunnel Mountain at Horse Shoe Curve.

Altoona, Jan. 27.—Pennsylvania railroad engineers regard as entirely practicable the project of building a tunnel line under the Allegheny mountains, west of Altoona. About four years ago this undertaking was first proposed by A. C. Shaud, now engineer of maintenance of way. It has not been abandoned, and, in the opinion of an officer of the company, is likely to figure as one of the next great improvement works which the Pennsylvania railroad will take up.

Under the management of President Cassatt the Pennsylvania railroad has expended many millions of dollars to reduce grades to a point necessary to insure low cost of operation. When work now in hand is completed, as it will be by the middle of next year, there will remain only one serious grade on the main line, that over the Allegheny mountains.

Here the west bound grade from Altoona around the Horseshoe Curve to Gallitzin reaches 107 feet to the mile. Passenger trains require two mountain climbing locomotives to get up the grade, while freight trains must be cut in two, and then need three locomotives to haul and push each half up the mountain. Coming east, the grade is about 55 feet to the mile.

To eliminate these costly grades, and to provide the one missing link in a low-grade through line, engineers propose a tunnel four and one-half miles long through the Allegheny mountains. Surveys and plans have been made to show the feasibility of such a project. From Altoona west a new line would be constructed up the valley and thence through the tunnel to a junction with the main line at Lily.

Such a tunnel line would cut down the grade from a present maximum of 107 feet to 37 feet to the mile. The plans place the tunnel south of Gallitzin. Several miles would also be saved by the projected tunnel line.

Construction cost and the difficulty of keeping so long a tunnel free of gases are the strongest arguments against the carrying out of the project.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Goods.

A. H Thurnes, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." For sale by C. M. Parrish.

SEMI-ANNUAL INSPECTIONS.

Companies and Property of the National Guard to be Viewed at Armories.

All the organizations of the National Guard of Pennsylvania will be inspected between February 1st and May 1st, pursuant to an order eminating from the adjutant general's office. A second brigade order announces the dates for the inspection of the several companies of the Fifth regiment, which is first to mount the plank in the brigade. Following are the dates for the ordeal.

Band, Clearfield, Tuesday, February 7; Company B, Bellefonte, Wednesday, February 8, Company A, Huntingdon, Thursday, February 9, Company G, Lewistown, Friday, February 10, Company C, Hollidaysburg, Saturday, February 11; Company D, Blairsville, Tuesday, February 21; Company F. Indiana, Wednesday, February 22; Company H, Johnstown, Thursday, February 23; Hospital corps, Altoona, Friday, February 24; Company E, Altoona, Friday, February 24. The state property in each case will be inspected at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the company at 8 in the evening.

The artillery will be inspected by the chief of ordinance; the cavalry by the division inspector, and the infantry by the brigade inspectors. The organizations will be paraded by battery, troop and company, in State blue uniform, light marching order, without leggings. All officers will appear in dress uniform. The inspections as to knowledge of duties for companies of infantry will include school of the soldier, school of the squad and guard duty. Ratings will also be made upon discipline, arms, equipment, clothing, books and papers. The latter will also be applicable to the cavalry and artillery. The troops of cavalry will be inspected dismounted in the school of the soldier, school of the troop and guard duty. The batteries of artillery will be inspected in the school of the soldier, school of the cannoneer, school of the battery and guard duty.

"Known to All Men."

The lie has been passed between the Government and the so-called "Beef Trust," about which Collier's for January 21 says:

The Government is after beef. Our views on anything approaching monopoly of a necessity of life have been sufficiently elucidated. We are struck at present with a coincidence of opinion on the mere question of public knowledge. President L. F. Swift of Swift & Co., made this declaration at the annual stockholders' meeting. "It is needless for me to say to those present, who are more or less familiar with the facts, that the reports in circulation about the "Beef Trust" are without foundation. There is absolutely no conspiracy or combination to control either the purchase of live stock or the sale of meats, or packing-house products; on the other hand, the packing industry is subject to the severest kind of competition, both in buying and selling, and the per cent. of profit on sales in the packing house industry is less than in any other line of business." Mr Swift alleges that persons "more or less familiar with the facts" know there is no trust. Now listen to the Attorney-General: "That there is a conspiracy to control the market of the nation for fresh meats, that it does control it, and that its control is merciless and oppressive, are facts known of all men." The difference of opinion between Mr. Swift and Mr. Moody about the knowledge of all men here seems fairly salient. We hope the Department of Justice may be able to add some exactness to what is "known of all men." If these facts are known of all men surely sufficient knowledge and ability are the only requisites to obtaining legal proof.

A Merry Sleighing Party Ended in an Upset.

On Monday evening, January 16th, a jolly crowd of young ladies and gentlemen, mostly of Milesburg, took advantage of the excellent sleighing and had one of those old-fashioned sleighing parties. They went away out into the Ridges to the comfortable and hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. William Shawly, where the evening was most enjoyably spent in all kinds of games, music and singing. Towards the wee small hours of the next morning the jolly crowd began wending their way home. When near the school house at the divide the heavy sled slid over a high embankment and nearly every one was hurt. Some were pretty badly cut about the head and body, but no one was seriously injured. The party was given in honor of Harry E. Whiteman, of Ashtola, who was a guest at the pretty little home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bullock. The party was composed of Misses Julia Campbell, of McKeesport; Bine Fulton, Hilda R. Haupt, Meda Bryan, Odessa Confer, Betty Haupt, Ada Baird, Madge Orris, Anna Shroyer, Florence Campbell, Anna Shroyer. Messrs. Gis Cox, Herle Campbell, Roland Bryan, Mr. Homer McKinley, of the Ridges, Finney Austin the "sport," Harry E. Whiteman, of Ashtola.

Winters Grasp Slowly Relaxing.

Philadelphia, Jan. 27.—Railroad and street car traffic, which was seriously interrupted by Wednesday's heavy snow storm, was greatly improved Thursday night after a hard day's work upon the part of the transportation companies.

Although the weather continues bitterly cold and the wind high thousands of laborers toiled all day and night shoveling snow to get the various lines open. So well did they succeed that not one train or suburban trolley car is reported snowed up today. Railroad trains are heavily late in arriving and departing, and schedules are still somewhat mixed up.

Some of the through trains on arriving here were combined and sent out many hours late. Scores of freight trains are tied up in the 105 miles stretch of railroad between here and the state capital. Local traffic on the main line was also greatly hindered and in many instances suburban trains were anulled. The New York division of the Pennsylvania Railroad was reported to be in fair condition but trains are running behind scheduled time.

Patton Bequeathed Ten Thousand Dollars.

The annuity fund of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Methodist Episcopal church has been enriched to the extent of $10,000 in five per cent. bonds of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke company—the bequest of the late A. E. Patton, who died recently at Curwensville. The matter was not known for some time after Mr. Patton's death, when a memorandum was found by his executors directing that the bonds be given to the annuity fund in lieu of notes for $2,000 which the fund held. The bonds have now been placed in the hands of the trustees.

The annuity fund of the conference is for the benefit of the superannuated preachers and the widows and minor children of deceased preachers. The members of the conference themselves subscribed $30,000 to the fund, and there have now been bequests, assignments of wills and other prospective increases of the fund which will ultimately swell it by from $40,000 to $50,000. This year, in subscriptions and annuities nearly $25,000 have been added.

Meeting of the Mermaid Club.

The Mermaid Club met Thursday night at the Rectory of St. John's Episcopal Church, the host of the occasion being Prof. W. P. Wharton, of the Academy. The session was devoted to the study of the lives and works of Phineas and Giles Fletcher and George Wither.

The after session was unusually attractive and greatly prolonged. Mr. Wharton's hospitality had provided a delicious supper and a beverage which makes a whole meal by itself. The next meeting of the club will be held Feb. 9th at the residence of Mr. Swayne with Prof. F. C. Smith as host. The subjects for study are William Browne, Sir William Davenant and Edmund Waller.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Bellefonte People fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back.

The weariness, the tired feeling.

The pains and achs of kidney ills.

Are serious if neglected.

Dangerous urinary troubles follow.

A Bellefonte citizen shows you how to avoid them.

Frank P. Davis, moulder, of 246 E. Logan St., says: "I used to suffer very much with a weakness of the back and severe pains through my loins. It kept me in constant misery and I seemed to be unable to find any relief, until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at F. Potts Green's drug store and used them. They reached the spot and in a short time my strength returned. I have never had any trouble of the kind since and am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills not only because they helped me but because I know of others who have also found relief in the same way, and I have yet to hear of a case in which this remedy has failed to give satisfaction."

FOR GOVERNOR, WESLEY R. ANDREWS.

It is said an effort will be made to have an editor made the next Governor of Pennsylvania.

There is no one man in the State of Pennsylvania who is as thoroughly acquainted with the political workers of the Republican party (and the Democratic party, too,) and withal so popular with them, as Wesley R. Andrews, the soldier, the editor and long-time Secretary of the Republican State Committee. He never forgets a man—his name, location or business. He is a perfect cyclopedia of the politics of the State. He will do a Democrat a favor if he can—and he generally can—as cheerfully as for a Republican. He is always genial, and never cuts any man off curtly or with a frown. He is in every respect a popular man.

For many years he was the editor of the Meadville Daily and Weekly Tribune; and those were the days of that paper's power and distinction. It never wobbled--its tone was never uncertain. If the Republican editors want an editor for Governor they should at once unite on Major Andrews, and make that determination so plain that no other aspirant would expect the nomination next year.

Major Andrew's powers of organization are simply marvellous, After the Delamater disaster Senator Quay called Major Andrews to the Secretaryship of the State Committee, and he has been there ever since; and all the details of the most perfect political organization this country has ever known have been worked out or approved by Major Andrews. If ever any man deserved the highest honors his party can bestow that man is Wesley R. Andrews.

And Northwestern Pennsylvania IS ENTITLED TO AND WANTS THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

Major Andrews is Private Secretary to Senator Penrose, but he ranks in Washington as a constructive statesman, an absolute master of detail, and fit for and worthy of any position the people of Pennsylvania can confer on him. The Republican editors of the State should at once make him their candidate for Governor. If they do he will be elected by a greater majority than President Roosevelt had.---Erie Echo.

SENATOR PENROSE.

Some of our Democratic members are making merry with themselves over the prospect of Senator Penrose losing his position as State leader and seeing it go to Senator Knox. These Democratic editors are ever discovering political mares' nests, or following political Jack o' lanterns. It would bode no good to the vanishing Democracy if it were true, but no political leader, not even Quay, was ever so solidly enthroned in power as Senator Penrose; and he is popular with the workers. He is not in any danger of losing his position as leader.

WASHINGTON LETTER

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 31st.

Hon. Champ Clark, a member of Congress from Missouri, selected a more popular theme for his wit in the advocacy of higher pay for the school teachers of the District of Columbia than he frequently has the fortune to exploit. The reason few men and women in the United States remembering their own school days, who do not believe the teachers who drilled knowledge into their heads were entitled to higher pay than they got, and of that great army who have been school teachers, not a dissenting voice to the teachers' right to higher pay could be found. Champ Clark himself belongs to this army and in language vivid if not Addisonian he described to the House of Representatives his experience and opinions He informed Congress and the country, that he was a teacher at fifteen and the president of a college at twenty-three years of age. If Macauley were still alive he might add Champ Clark to the list of his "warnings to the eminent and consolations to the obscure" with the explanation that Bryon and Bonaparte were scarcely in it with Mr. Clark for they were twenty-four and twenty-five respectively when they had achieved fame while Mr. Clark was president of a college at twenty-three. Inasmuch as Mr. Clarke was president only one year it may be presumed that the college saw in time the injustice it was doing the nation in keeping him out of politics. The school m'arms did not get the increase of salary demanded, but they had saved money enough to buy bouquets for Mr. Clarke and his desk at the Capitol was covered with their tributes of appreciation.

The army appropriation bill has passed and through the efforts of Senator Lodge and other near friends of the president the appropriation has been made so as to allow full pay to General Miles notwithstanding he will be drawing pay on the Military staff of Governor Douglass, of Massachusetts. During the debate on the army bill Senator Hale, of Maine, who is perhaps the star grumbler of the Senate, took occasion to criticize with great severity the army staff bill which was passed at the last session of Congress through the urgent efforts of ex-Secretary Root and bitterly opposed by General Miles. It is well known that under the old system the official corps of our army was about as absolete in its organization and about as ineffective in its action as would be an old flint lock musket for military purposes. All Asia, to say nothing of Europe, had adopted far more modern and effective system, but the old system finds its eulogist in such boudoir strategists as Senator Hale, of Maine. It came out in the debate that he had had to wait ten minutes or to "cool his heels" as he expressed it in an office of the war department for an interview with one of the military officers appointed under the new law. "T'was now always thus" and Senator Hale looks back on a time when he did not have to complain of "cold feet."

President Roosevelt continues to make speeches and write letters to everybody and on every subject. It is almost marvelous that any man can talk and write so much and make so few breaks. A deputation of Episcopal bishops charged with anti-divorce thunder called on him yesterday and he told them in substance that he was with them in everything that tended to the promotion of family ties and home stabilities and large families. The president has been twice married and is the father of six children, so that doubtless he feels equipped to have a heart to heart talk with the nation on its martial affairs whenever the opportunity presents. The Washington clergyman who said that while he was an ardent admirer of the president he could wish that Roosevelt was not so bent on being the "Father of us all" is probably not surprised to find him expressing himself on the divorce roblem. Having undertaken to adjust strikes, trusts, railroads, the tariff, the navy, the currency and the size of our families he probably regards the divorce question as "dead easy" but as a Senator said "The man who is competent to talk about a divorce is the man who has procured a divorce or tried and failed, and a happily married man has no more right to dictate divorce laws than bachelors have to make rules for the care of babies." Whether this is logical or not is difficult to say, but the Bishops regard the work of securing the president as an accomplice in virtue as the most important accomplishment of their conference here.

Senators Hale and Bacon who in a spasm of jealously for the rights of the Senate temporarily forgot the constitution of the United States or thought the president was about to set it aside in his transaction with the little Republic of Santo Domingo have had their timid apprehensions allayed by a communication from the State Department. The new relations between the counties by which the United States will assume the right to administer the affairs of Santo Domingo cannot be brought about without a treaty and in due course of events the Senate must give its consent to the treaty. That it will also give its advice no one acquainted with that deliberate and verbase body will doubt Senators Bacon and Hale will yet be heard from.

President Roosevelt whose energy is unflagging, will break away from Washington cares Monday and go to Annapolis where he will present the Naval Academy diplomas and make the graduates an address. No one can safely predict what the President will say for there is little of the conventional and hackneyed in his speeches. He is perhaps the only president whose audiences have been much interested th get nearer than mere seeing distance. Since the time in the theatre in Washington when he commended by name a local livery stable keeper for a charitable act seats in the bald headed row when the president performs are at a premium.

History of The Potter Family.

five years of age he was a lieutenant in a border militia company. February 17, 1756, he was commissioned an ensign (color bearer) in a company of which his father was captain, and served under Col. Armstrong in the famous Kittanning campaign, and was wounded in the attack of September 8, 1756. October 23, 1757, he was commissioned lieutenant of the Second Battalion, and promoted captain, February 17, 1759, and October 2, 1764, he was in command of three companies on the northern frontier.

Gen. Potter resided during his early manhood on the banks of the Conococheague creek, near Greencastle, in what is now Antrim township, Franklin county, Pa.

His first wife was Elizabeth Cathcart. Her sister Margaret was married to George Latimer, of Philadelphia, a descendant of Bishop Latimer, of England. Their families were very intimate. Hence "George Latimer" has been perpetuated as a family name among the Potters for several generations. Gen. Potter's first wife lived only a few years. She died in Antrim township, leaving one son, John, and an infant daughter, Elizabeth, only six months old. This daughter in after years married Capt. James Poe, of Antrim township and became the grandmother of the writer of this article. Mrs. Potter was buried in Brown's graveyard, about four miles from Greencastle, Pa.

Gen. Potter's second wife was Mary, widow of Thomas Chambers, and daughter of James and Mary Patterson, of Fermenagh towhship, now in Juniata county, Pa. The second Mrs. Potter died in 1791 or 1792, and is buried in the old Stanford, or Cedar Creek graveyard, about half a mile southeast of Linden Hall, Centre county, Pa.

Gen. Potter removed to Sunbury, now in Northumberland county, Pa., soon after the purchase of 1768; and on March 24, 1772, he was appointed one of the justices of Northumberland county at its organization, and was one of the commissioners appointed to run its lines. He soon afterwards settled upon a farm about a mile above New Columbia, now in Union county, Pa., where he resided until the spring of 1774, when he removed to Penn's Valley, now in Centre county, Pa.

According to a statement of Hero Wade, his army servant, who died in 1842, Gen. Potter made his first improvement at the spring a little north of where the "Old Fort Hotel" now stands on the turnpike in Potter township. Here he built a log house, which was fortified in 1777, and was known as the Upper Fort in Penns's Valley. During the summer of 1778, he was in Penn's Valley assisting in repelling the inroads of Indians. He remained there as late as July, 1779, when he retired with the inhabitants, on account of the depredations and atrocities of the Indians, and took his family to Middle Creek, now in Snyder county, Pa., November 16, 1780, when he became a member of the State Council, he still resided in Middle Creek. On the 14th day of November, 1781, he was elected Vice President of the State, and May 23, 1782, he was unanimously elected major-general. In 1784 he was elected a member of the Council of Censors, taking his seat July 7, 1784. Meanwhile he had resumed his residence on his farm above New Columbia.

We now return to the military career of Gen. Potter. January 24, 1776, he was elected Colonel of the Upper Battalion, and in July a member of the Constitutional Convention. He was in command of a battallion at the battle of Trenton, December 26, 1776, and at Princeton, January 3, 1777. On the 5th of April, 1777, he was appointed third brigadier-general of the militia of the State. He was in command of his brigade at Brandywine and Germantown, and also served with great ability on the outposts of Gen. Washington's army while encamped at Valley Forge. On account of the illness of his wife he obtained leave of absence January 9, 1778. Gen. Washington wrote him from Valley Forge in the Spring of 1778: "If the state of Gen. Potter's affairs will permit of his returning to the army, I shall be exceedingly glad to see him, as his activity and vigilance have been much wanted during the winter."

In 1786 and 1787 he was largely interested with the Hon. Timothy Pickering in lands of the purchase of 1784, and in 1788 he turned his attention to improvements in Penn's Valley, erecting the first house at Potter's Mills, and the mills there.

He was injured in raising a barn on what was lately the Foster farm, east of the Old Fort, in the fall of 1789. In order to be under the care and treatment of Dr. McClelland, his former family physician, he was hauled in a Dearborn wagon all the way from Penn's Valley to the residence of his son-in-law, Capt. James Poe, on the banks of the Conococheague creek, near Greencastle, now in Franklin county, Pa. He died there the last of November or early in December, 1789. He was buried by the side of his first wife in Brown's graveyard, about four miles from Greencastle and, sad to relate, no stone marks the last resting place of this wealthy, distinguished and patriotic citizen. Gen. Potter was about sixty years of age at the time of his death.

According to a statement by his servant, Hero Wade, Gen. Potter was a stout, broad-shouldered, active, plucky man, five feet nine inches high, and of dark complexion.

The will of Gen. Potter as it is recorded in Lewistown, Pa., bears the date of October 27, 1789. A few items from it may not be devoid of general interest. He appoints as his executors, his son (Judge) James Potter, and his three sons-in-law, James Poe, Andrew Gregg, and George Riddles.

He left an extensive and valuable estate. He divises lands amounting to about twenty-five thousand acres. He also bequeaths to certain members of his family a number of negro slaves, both male and female, giving their money value in each case.

He also directs certain moneys to be appropriated by his executors to the following purposes, viz:—"Defraying my funeral charges, bringing the bones of my mother and son John from Middle Creek, where they are now interred, and burying them in Stanford's burying ground in Potter township, erecting tombstones over their graves, and also over the graves of my father, my former wife, Elizabeth, and my latter wife Mary, and my own."

There is reason to fear that but few, if any, of these requests were complied with.

The ministers who visited Penn's Valley as missionaries at an early day always met with a cordial reception at the home of Gen Potter. Previous to his death he gave two acres of land for a church and burial purposes to the Cedar Creek or West Penn's Valley Presbyterain church, half a mile southeast of Linden Hall, Centre county, Pa. In his will he says: "I order and direct, and it is my will that my subscription for the support of a clergyman in West Penn's Valley congregation be continued and paid yearly and every year for six years after my decease."

From these facts we learn that he was decidedly in favor of the Christian religion. He was also a member of the Presbyterian church.

I shall enter into no enconium upon the life and character of Major-General James Potter. He needs none. His record for patriotism and valor is peerless and unimpeached. As a statesman he filled with honor and distinction nearly every official position within the gift of the State. And whether we form an estimate of his character from his statesmanship, or when engaged in defending his friends and neighbors from the agressions and depredations of ruthless savages, or when fighting for American freedom upon the battlefields of Trenton, of Princeton, of Brandywine, and of Germantown and Valley Forge, he will ever stand forth in the very front rank of that long list of patriots whose names adorn the annals of Pennsylvania.

THE CHILDREN OF GEN. POTTER.

The names of the children by his first wife have been given. His son John died at Middle Creek, when about eighteen years of age. His children by his second wife were as follows; viz:—

(1) Judge James Potter, born July 4, 1767. He was the only son by the second wife. On December 15, 1788, he married Mary, daughter of William Brown, who was the first settler at Brown's Mills, (Reedsville), Mifflin county, Pa., and in 1788 he established himself at Potter's Mills. On the death of his father, he acquired large land interests, and carried on a store, mills and a distillery at that place, and succeeded his father as Deputy Surveyor of the Sixth District in the purchase of 1784. In common with Capt. Samuel Montgomery, of Carlisle, he owned the site of Lewistown, Pa., and laid out that village in 1790. He was commissioned one of the judges of the several courts of Centre county, which office he held during life. In 1807, he was appointed major-general of the Tenth Military District. Judge Potter died November 2, 1818, at the age of fifty-one years. He was buried in the family burying ground at Potter's Mills. His widow, Mary Brown Potter, was born June 15, 1770, and died January 6, 1823.

(2) Martha, daughter of Gen. Potter, was born April 10, 1769, and was married to Hon. Andrew Gregg in 1797. (See Gregg history.)

(3) Mary, married George Riddles, a merchant of Middletown, Dauphin county, Pa. Their daughter, Mary H., married William H. Patterson, and Eliza married Dr. Joseph B. Ard, of Lewistown, Pa. William H. Patterson's daughter Mary was the second wife of Gen. George Buchanan, of Spring Mills, Centre county, Pa.

After the death of Mr. Riddles, his widow married William McClelland, of Northumberland county, Pa. Their son, Robert McClelland, resided in Penns Valley, east of the Old Fort, more than fifty years ago. His wife was a sister of Gen. William H. Irwin, of Lewistown, Pa.

(4) Margaret, the youngest daughter, married Edward Crouch, of Walnut Hills, Dauphin county, Pa. She died at the age of twenty-six, leaving one daughter, Mary, who married Benjamin Jordan, father of Edward C. and Gen. Thomas J. Jordan, who was Colonel of the 9th Pennsylvania cavalry during the war of the Rebellion.

Edward Crouch afterwards married Rachel Bailey, an aunt of the late Edward Crouch Humes, of Bellefonte.

The children of Judge James Potter and Mary Brown, his wife, were as follows, viz:—James, William W., George Latimer, Mary, married to Dr. William Irvine Wilson, John, Margaret Crouch (Peggy), married to Dr. Charles Coburn; Martha Gregg, married to Abraham Valentine, and Andrew Gregg.

(1) James, eldest son of Judge Potter, was born at Potter's Mills, December 1, 1789. December 20, 1814, he married Maria Wilson, daughter of Gen. William Wilson, of Chilisquaqua, and sister of Judge Abraham Wilson, of Lewistown, Pa.

Their children were James, Susan, married to O. Perry Duncan; William Wilson, John, Dr. George Latimer, and Andrew Gregg.

James Potter's second wife was Susan Duncan, widow of Thomas Duncan, and daughter of John Irvin, of Linden Hall, Pa.

Their children were Thomas D., Irvin W., Maria, married to Dr. Hendricks; Annie A., married to Dr. W. C. Spaulding; Jacob Lex, Charles H. and Mary Ellen, married to Simeon C. Crane.

James Potter was extensively engaged in business at Potter's Mills for many years. He was the senior partner of the firm of J. & J. Potter. Mr. Potter was a most genial and hospitable man—an old time gentleman. No sacrifice was too great for him to make for a friend.

James Potter removed in 1856 to Watertown, Wisconsin, and afterwards to Madison, Indiana, where he died March 22, 1865, aged seventy-six years.

(2) William W. Potter, son of Judge James Potter, was a prominent lawyer of Bellefonte. He was an able advocate and eloquent orator. Mr. Potter was elected to Congress in 1836, and re-elected in 1838. He died October 29, 1839, aged 47 years, while in office, and was buried in the family burying ground at Potter's Mills. He married Lucy Winters, an aunt of the late Mrs. Edward C. Hughes, with whom she made her home after the death of her husband. A few years ago the remains of Mr. Potter were removed to the Bellefonte cemetery and buried by the side of his wife. They left no children.

(3) The children of Mary Potter and Dr. William I. Wilson, were: Katharine Irvine, wife of Hon. Andrew G. Curtin; Dr. James P., Mary Amelia, Lucy P., wife of Dr. F. H. Moyer; Elizabeth, wife of Rev. John Elliott; William P., Laura, wife of Rev. George Elliott; Francis Hugh, and Alice.

(4) George Latimer, son of Judge Potter, died when yet a young man.

(5) John Potter, son of Judge Potter, was a prominent business man in partnership with his brother James, at Potter's Mills, sixty years ago. The firm of J. & J. Potter did an immense business in those days. John Potter was also president of the Lewistown bank at the time of its failure in 1847. He married Amelia Burnside. Their children were James and William, who removed to Wisconsin and died there, and Dr. Thomas B., who has been for many years a prominent business man of Philipsburg, Pa.

Their father and mother also removed to Wisconsin and died there several years ago.

In compiling this narrative the writer has aimed to gather together, as far as possible, all the important facts in the early history of the Potter family.

It will not be strange if, in arranging and classifying them, some errors and omissions have occurred.

Macauley, in the opening sentence of his History of England, says he proposes to write the history of England "down to a period within the memory of men living." This is all the writer proposes to do in reference to the Potter family. He hopes that some abler pen will some day resume the narrative, and not fail to record the noble deeds and exploits of those of us who now constitute tde surviving descendants of the Potter family.

—A puny child is always an anxiety to the parents. There seems generally no reason why the little one should be weak when it is so well fed. But the fact is that it does not matter how much food the child takes if the stomach cannot extract the nourishment from it. No benefit can be derived from just eating. That is the condition of many a sickly child. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are not doing their work, and the body is really starving. It is little use to give fish foods, like cod liver oil or emulsions, in such a case, because these also have to be digested; they may lighten the stomachs labor but they dontstrenthen it. Strength is what the stomach needs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves and increases the action of the blood making glands. It is superior to every other preparation for children's use, on account of its body building qualities, and also because it is pleasant to taste and contains no alcohol, whisky or other intoxicants. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a valuable aid when the bowels are irregular. They are small. Children take them readily.

—New goods now arriving. Prunes peaches, apricots, raisins, figs--all fine goods. Our line of new canned peas and corn open up fine. The Refugee stringless beans from the Howard Canning Co. are very fine. Sechler & Co.

Our Public Men on Y. M. C. A. Work.

A few selected thoughts from notable speakers upon Young Men's Christian Association work.

Gen. Frederick Grant said:

In the early days of the Civil War orders were given to all the army divisions to encourage the organization's work. I will be glad to give every effort possible towards bringing the Association in contact with my troops. It makes them better soldiers, braver, cleaner, stronger men. And it will be doing the country good at the same time. The speaker said his father, General U. Grant was greatly impressed by the Association work.

President Ramsey, of the Wabash Railroad said:

The Y. M. C. A., is considered a good investment by a Railroad. The R. R. movement started in 1873. It has grown until last year it had 72000 members, 200 associations, 190 buildings, $2,000,000 worth of property and an average daily attendance of 37000 railroad men.

Rev. Dr. Francis L. Patton, said:

How can our university young men be more wisely influenced toward christianity? It remains for your organization the Y. M. C. A. It is caring for the studente now in the colleges and universities. And I thank God it is there and doing its work so well.

Henry McFarlane, president of the Board of Commissioners in the District of Columbia, said:

The principle of the developments of all-round men in body, mind and spirit through Y. M. C. A., activity and under the transforming power of God has been maintained in all its vigor against all attempts to weaken it.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland, said:

"Our review furnished gratifying evidences, not only that the churches of our land are in important relationship with the work of the Y. M. C. A., but that these associations are promoters of industry, sobriety, trustworthyness and thrift with the best business and material interests of the country, and as one of the instrumentalities in the direction of softening the asperity of the differences arising between capital and labor is full of promise.

I. M. Shively, of Mifflinburg, transacted business here one day last week.

Alf Baum, of Bellefonte, took in the horse sale last Friday.

The horse sale on last Friday by P. G. Waldron, was very largely attended. It was conceeded that more people were here than at any previous sale. Mr. Waldron by his courteous manner and fair dealings has won the plaudits of our people, except a few disgrunted ones. The people in general, said that it was the finest and best car load of horses ever offered for sale at this market. He had from thirty to forty horses. His attendants were all good men. No cursing could be heard from the management nor those connected with him. Mr. Williams the auctioneer, is a fine one and took well with the crowd. If Mr. Waldron should come again with such stock there will be no trouble to dispose of them, average price was about $150.00. Many people began to think, "that there is more than one pebble on the beach." F. P. Musser and Harry Meyer, were clerks at sale.

Postmaster Spigelmyer, was attending court this week as a juror.

Jas. A. Martin, of Lewisburg, H. W. Class, Sunbury, C. P. Dodson, of Philadelphia, H. H. Renninger, of Congo, Pa., R. R. Shrimpling, of Pittsburg, M. Weller, of Williamsport, J. A. Weist, of Millersburg, H. N. Bourne, of Mansfield, Ohio and D. F. Bander, of Harrisburg, registered at the Musser House.

H. T. Berry, of Baltimore, called on merchant Nieman last week.

Lann Fitzpatrick, Adams Express messenger of Buffalo, N. Y., accompanied the car load of horses of P. G. Waldron to see that they were delivered in good order. These horses were shipped by express. They left Buffalo at 9 o clock in the evening and the next morning at 7:50 they were at Coburn.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Jackson, of Bellefonte, was in town on professional business last week.

C. C. Freeman, of N. C., was here on business.

C. H. Klose, of Milton, called on the trade here a few days ago.

J. H. Hoffman, of Shamokin, the proprietor of the knitting mill at that place, has moved his machinery here, and is now putting it in and in a week will start up the mill again. G. S. Shelton will be the manager.

Frederick K. Foster, the insurance man of Bellefonte was in town Monday on business.

C. F. Tate, of Bellefonte, plumber, is putting the finishing touches at the new house of A. A. Franks on North street.

The safe at the post office became unmanageable a few days ago, and could not be opened. Mr. Shelton, of the knitting factory, had it open in a short time.

Benore.

We are sorry to see Harry Sellers, the efficient clerk at J. W. Baisors, resign his position. Mr. John Dewey, of Dungarvin, will take his place.

We wish to welcome to our village through the columns of this paper Mr. and Mrs. Rutter, of Red Bank, who recently moved into the large house vacated by our former Supt. D. F. Kapp. No doubt they will be pleased with their new home.

Mr. Mal Lykens and daughter, Stella, just returned from a visit to Clearfield Co. where the youngest daughter resides with her aunt.

Mr. Harry Lykens steps with added dignity since the arrival of his son.

The meeting at Gray's church continues with interest. The fine sleighing and beautiful nights have made it possible for people to attend from all over the circuit. Many of our Benore young people have been attending quite regularly and we hope are being benefited by going.

Mrs. Will Lykens and Mrs. Markley are still on the sick list. Mrs. Haugh is also sick now.

Little George Kellerman fell on the back of his head while playing at school on Tuesday. He became quite sick and the teacher sent him home. Dr. Wilson was summoned at once. We hope it will not terminate seriously.

Mrs. Clemson attended the funeral of Dr. E. J. Gray, at Williamsport, on Monday.

Rev. Eslinger preached here on Saturday evening on account of the meeting at Gray's church.

Mr. and Mrs. Behrs and daughter, of Franklinville visited Mrs. Behrs' sister, Mrs. Cal Lykens.

Miss Anna Heberling is among us a few days renewing old friendship with patrons and pupils of last winter. She is the guest of Miss Mary Roop.

Miss Flo Kapp, of State College is also a welcome visitor to Benore as the guest of Miss Mary Roop.

Mrs. John Haugh is still quite sick.

Misses Alice and Maude Hutchinson of Warriorsmark are visiting the Misses Grays at Graysdale.

Mr. Samuel Kurtz spent Sunday in town.

Mr. Mellin (not mush-mellon as one might infer) arrived here last Friday evening on the "Century Limited" from Pittsburg. We do not know the nature of Mr. Mellin's visit but it is the general supposition that he was here for the purpose of securing some good young man (possibly Joe-Pat) as agent to solicit orders for Mellins Food through out the county.

Mr. H. M. Harm desires to announce through the columns of this paper that he has taken as partners Messrs. R. E. Kech and M. J. Gilliland in the Hicklin Hollow Honey Co. They have just closed a contract with Foley & Co. to furnish them with honey for their famous cough syrup, "Foley's Honey and Tar."

Mr. J. B. Yarnell, Supt of the U. T. T. & Co., and Asst. Postmaster General at this place had a very narrow escape a few evenings ago from being hurled from the Government building by a husky young lad. If the building had not been so crowded that Jesse could of displayed his muscular ability, this young lad might of taken an aerial voyage back to the wilds of Clearfield county from whence he hailed.

Hon. J. H. Musser is spending a few days in Bellefonte this week.

Mr. Lawrence Shank, general utility man in Budingers department store spent Sunday at Cato.

We are informed that the young lady who was seriously injured a few days ago while alighting from the Passenger train at Clarence is tolerably well. For further information address Mr. Paul Irwin, Master Mechanic, Rock Run, Pa.

Father Gormley Very Ill.

The condition of the Rev. J. J. Gormley, of Renovo, a former pastor of St. Johns' Catholic church at Bellefonte, who is in Atlantic City the past few days, has not been very favorable according to latest reports and his recovery is not anticipated. Father Gormley suffered a relapse a few days ago and from this his rally to health has been very slow.

New Coal Vein Discovered.

What will no doubt prove of greater importance to Bloss-burg than anything that has occurred since Robert and Benjamin Patterson discovered the outcrop of "stone coal" 100 years ago, is the recent discovery by Frank Sobrowski of a new vein of soft coal 4 feet 6 inches thick, free from dirt, bony and sulphur, which outcrops on East creek between the Blake road and Putnam's mines. Geologists never knew of this vein, but it lies 150 feet under the Bloss vein and undoubtedly extends under this whole territory. Samples of it have been brought here and it burns like oil, leaving a white ash and no clinkers. In appearance it resembles the Westmoreland county gas coal. We understand that a thorough prospect will be made in the spring by interested parties.—Advertiser.

Blair County Court House Improvement.

Plans have been adopted for the extension to the court house at Hollidaysburg. The annex will cost $100,000 and is to be completed fully by December 1st. There will be no court in June, July, August, September and October while the improvement work is in progress.

UNCLAIMED LETTER LIST.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte Post Office uncalled for Jan. 30th, 1905:

H. T. Berry, Clifford C. Jenking, Bert McKinley.

When called for please say advertised.

W. W. MONTGOMERY, P. M.

—The Republicans of the North ward have selected W. H. Musser as their candidate for Justice of the Peace. No better or suitable selection could have been made as Mr. Musser is particularly fitted for such a position. He has a good education and is well versed in matters pertaining to the law and no doubt would discharge the duties of his office with justice and fidelity. Besides this, his insurance office in the Crider block is centrally located and would make a good place for a justice's office. Mr. Musser is an old soldier and the newly elected Commander of Gregg Post. By all means, vote for Musser.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

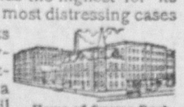
If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y., on every bottle.

CHARTER NOTICE.—Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania on Friday, February 17, 1905, by W. B. O'Brien, George B. Uzzle and John P. Kelly under the Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled, "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations" approved April 29, 1874, and the supplements thereto for the charter of an intended corporation to be called the "Snow Shoe Water Company" the character and purpose of which is to supply the inhabitants of the village of Snow Shoe and territory adjacent thereto in the township of Snow Shoe, Centre county Pa., with water for domestic and other purposes and for this purpose to have and possess and enjoy all the rights, benefits and privileges of the said Act of Assembly and its supplements.

A High Class Entertainment in Petrikin Hall.

Once again the thanks of our people who are fond of musical and literary entertainments of an inspiring and elevating character must be extended to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. The concert given in their hall last Friday by the Estelle M. Clark Co., of Chicago, was a pronounced success from a musical, literary and artistic point of view and will always be remembered as one of the finest entertainments of its kind ever given in Bellefonte. The hearty applause with which each number of the program was received indicated the intense delight of the large audience present. Every member of the company proved herself a star of the first magnitude. The versatility of talent displayed by the Mrs. Estelle Clark in her readings and in the musical numbers was remarkable. Her ability in dialect readings was especially marked. The singing of Miss Langworthy, the soprano soloist, and Mrs. Mercer, the contralto soloist, simply captivated their hearers, while the quartette work of the company produced exquisite harmony The minuet given by the quartette as an encore was a very clever and graceful bit of work and was generously applauded. The entire program was really par excellent. Those who are failing to patronize the W. C. T. U. course this winter are allowing rare opportunities to pass by. It may be a long time before such a high standard course may be provided again.

J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Chriesman, Texas, says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Green's Pharmacy.

New Apportionment Bill.

A legislative apportionment bill which will probably never get out of the committee to which it was referred was introduced by Robert McWhinney, of Allegheny county, in the House on Monday. The bill provides for increasing the representatives from 204 to 207. The bill gives Allegheny county additional representatives: Philadelphia, Luzerne and Lackawanna two each and Blair, Cambria, Clearfield, Fayette, Jefferson, Northumberland and Westmoreland counties one each. The counties of Adams, Bedford, Bradford, Bucks, Centre, Chester, Clarion, Columbia, Crawford, Huntingdon, Indiana, Lancaster, Lycoming, Mercer, Montgomery, Schuylkill, Susquehanna and Wayne, each lose one representative.

A Life at Stake.

If you but knew the splendid merit of Foley's Honey and Tar you would never be without it. A dose or two will prevent an attack of pneumonia or la grippe, It may save your life. C. M. Parrish.

Senator Irvin's Committees.

Senator Irvin, of this district, has been made chairman of the library committee and appointed a member of the education, forestry, new counties and county seats committee. Those not acquainted with the relative value of committees might think our Senator fared well and for a new member he was not slighted for being made a chairman is an honor not accorded to every new member. The educational committee is one of the best. Senator Irvin, also, succeeded in securing an appointment and selected Ezra Gray, editor of the Morning Courier, who held the same position under Senator Patton, clerk to the judiciary general committee.

For Thin Babies

Fat is of great account to a baby; that is why babies are fat. If your baby is scrawny, Scott's Emulsion is what he wants. The healthy baby stores as fat what it does not need immediately for bone and muscle. Fat babies are happy; they do not cry; they are rich; their fat is laid up for time of need. They are happy because they are comfortable. The fat surrounds their little nerves and cushions them. When they are scrawny those nerves are hurt at every ungentle touch. They delight in Scott's Emulsion. It is as sweet as wholesome to them.

Doings in Society.

Mrs. Andrew J. Cook gave a thimble party Thursday afternoon for some of her lady friends at her home on West Linn street.

Miss Myra Humes gave a turkey dinner to a large party of friends Thursday at her hospitable home on North Allegheny street.

Mr. George R. Meek entertained the members of his fraternity from State College at the home of his parents on West High street Friday evening. The guests however, came very near being deprived of the elegant refreshments provided for them. Early in the evening members of the family were sitting in the dining room adjoining the kitchen. Hearing a noise they opened a door leading into the kitchen when they were astonished to find several young men in the act of making away with the refreshments. They proved to be from another fraternity and were driven off but not until they had made away with about half the good things provided. This was the only incident to mar an evening of unusual enjoyment. Quite a number of guests were present from town.

In Bed Four Weeks With La Grippe

We have received the following letter from Mr. Roy Kemp, of Angola, Ind. "I was in bed four weeks with la grippe and I tried many remedies and spent considerable for treatment with physicians, but I received no relief until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar. Two small bottles of this medicine cured me and now I use it exclusively in my family." Take no substitutes. C. M. Parrish.

A Beautiful Memorial.

The great St. Louis Exposition of 1904, unrivalled as the greatest of all the World's fair's, is now a scene of desolation. Fortunately, the beauties of its magnificent architecture and fairy-like palaces are preserved in a series of thirty artistic portfolios, containing several hundred views of the buildings and scenes at the Fair, from photographs taken especially for the work by the official photographer of the Exposition, and constituting a permanent memorial of its vanished grandeur. They were designed to sell at $7.50 but the New York World has made special arrangements to furnish a limited number of sets at cost—$3 00 for the set of thirty. Address The World P. O. Box 1730, New York.

RUSSIAN STRIKE IS SUBSIDING!

But Revolution Smoulders Just the Same.

TROOPS DISAPPEAR

From the Streets of St. Petersburg and Moscow Strikers Resume their Work To Protect Public Works

DEMONSTRATION IN LONDON.

Every indication seems to point to the disintegration of the strike movement in Russia. Several large factories in St. Petersburg re-opened yesterday and a general resumption of work on Monday is expected by the employers.

General Kuropatkin's report of the success of his late forward movement seems to have acquired in St. Petersburg the added importance of being a check to a Japanese advance. It is prooable that this has had some effect toward quieting the uneasy populace of the Russian capital, but in any case the workmen seem to have been converted to the idea that their surest retiance for remedy of their grievances in the government,

At Warsaw yesterday there was a serious collision between workmen and soldiers, official reports giving the casualties as two killed and seven wounded.

The strike at Libau continues, and there has been no material change in the situation at Moscow and Lodz. There are grave fears of trouble at Ovono-Vosenesnk, the foremost cotton goods manufacturing town in the Empire.

THE REVOLUTION SMOULDERS.

Predictions are made that the ending of the strike will but result in increased activity on the part of the revolutionists.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The large East End resort "Wonderland," which is notorious as a prize fight arena, was the scene last night of remarkable revolutionary demonstration. The audience numbered 3,000 and was composed largely of Russian Jews. A Russian revolutionary leader in London presides and made a speech denouncing Emperor Nicholas and the Grand Dukes. For the benefit of recent arrivals from Russia he repeated his speech in the Russian tongue.

The speaker was constantly interrupted by cheers for the Russian revolution and singing of the revolutionary hymn. This was followed by a speech from a Londoner, a resident of Eastham, who delighted the audience by denouncing Emperor Nicholas, Emperor William and King Edward, and proposed that the audience rid themselves of "All Emperors, thieves and other losfers."

Speeches were also made by a Polish Socialist and an Italian Anarchist. A resolution was passed in harmony with the temper and the gathering, which was strange and motly, perhaps the most representative of the kind ever seen in London.

Police were present in considerable numbers but did not interrupt the proceedings.

JOIN THE MOVEMENT.

Send in Your Subscriptions for Beautifying Academy Grounds.

The approaching centennial anniversary of the Bellefonte Academy makes it most desirable that that historic institution appear at its best next June. The transformation that has already been made in the buildings is sufficient to warrant a feeling of pride in their appearance after a century of work and progress, but the grounds. Ah! there's the place where much must be done ere the crowds of old students come back from all parts of the country to participate in the festivities next June.

There has been much argument of plans for raising sufficient money to beautify the grounds and the concensus of opinion seems to be that it would be easiest and most satisfactory to give all the old students of the Academy an opportunity to contribute to the movement. Accordingly, on the 1st of February, the newspapers of Bellefonte will open a popular subscription column, where each and every contribution will be listed weekly. It is hoped that there will be a generous response and that the first will be sufficiently large to fortell the success of the plan. While there will be no limit to the amount of individual contributions it is hoped that all will feel able to give a dollar, at least. In fact, if every old student of the Academy in the county were to give a dollar there would be a sufficient amount raised in no time. Remember, this contribution list is open to every one and we would be very glad to hear from all who feel disposed to help a movement that has such an estimable object.

A Remarkable Calf Story.

To preface this calf story, which is the most remarkable true story of the kind we have ever heard, we would state that the story related by F. S. Tomlinson, steward of the county home, can be proven by the sworn declarations of more than a dozen reliable men who know the facts in the case. Mr. Tomlinson says that on Dec. 18, 1904, one of the finely bred cows at the county home, gave birth to a splendid calf and that on Monday, Jan. 16, 1905, this calf was killed and on Tuesday the day following the veal was eaten by the inmates of the home. Now if the story ended here there wouldn't be anything unusual about it, but to the astonishment of Mr. Tomlinson, who is willing to swear to the truth of the story, this same cow, after having been milked all last week, on Saturday, Jan. 21, 1905, gave birth to another calf. Both calves were finely developed as any of the men acquainted with the strange occurrence had ever seen. When asked when the next calf would come along or whether the cow was a Jersey, a Holstien, a Winchester, Remington or Marlin deponent dropped the phone and the answer died away with the echoes and we may never know.—Clearfield Public Spirit.

Beware of Counterfeits.

"Dewitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve," writes J. L. Tucker, of Centre, Ala., "I have used it in my family for Piles, Cuts and Burns for years and can recommend it to be the best Salve on the market. Every family should keep it as it is an invaluable household remedy, and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage, of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally, I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's Hazel Salve cures without a scar. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

One Way to Advertise.

John Wanamaker, the great Philadelphia merchant, once said: "There is only one way to advertise, and that is to hammer your name, your location, your business, so constantly, so persistently, so thoroughly, into the people's heads that if they walked in their sleep they would constantly turn their faces towards your store. The newspaper is your best friend in spite of your criticism. It helps to build up the community that supports you. When the day comes that the newspapers are dead, the people are near the edge of the grave, with no one to write their epitaph."

Tonic to The System.

For liver troubles and constipation there is nothing better than DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little Pills. They do not weaken the stomach. Their action upon the system is mild, pleasant and harmless. Bob Moore, at LaFayette, Ind., says, "No use talking, DeWitt's Little Early Risers do their work. All other pills I have used gripe and make me sick in the stomach and never cured me. DeWitt's Little Early Risers proved to be the long sought relief. They are simply perfect." Persons traveling find Little Early Risers the most reliable remedy to carry with them. Sold by Green's pharmacy.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—The spring session of the Williamsport Archdeaconry will be held at Bloomsburg.

—The smallpox is epidemic about LaJose, Clearfield county, as far as reported there are over 28 cases.

—Honse hunting is in progress and many people, who have to move, have not yet decided where they will go.

—The contest for the office of county superintendent of Clearfield county goes merrily on between the three candidates

—Mrs. Thomas Shaughnessy, Sr., who has been quite ill at her daughter's home in Tyrone, is recovering and will soon be able to return home.

—Miss Rogers, a DuBois artist, has received an order from a Cleveland firm for a dozen plates to be sent to France and their copied for import.

—Charles F. McQuistion, of Butler, has invented a water trap and received a patent for the same. He is a relative of S. A. McQuistion of this place.

MARRIED.—By Rev. Cox at the Evangelical parsonage, on Saturday evening Mr. W. Clayton Duck, of Pleasant Gap and Miss Ida Emil, of Bellefonte.

—Curtin station, on the Bald Eagle valley railroad, was opened for all kinds of traffic last week. The smallpox epidemic is completely under control.

—Twenty-five applications for liquor license have already been filed in the Prothonotary's office at Bellefonte. In the list there are only a few new parties applying.

—Ex Judge Cyrus Gordon, of Clearfield has been appointed counsel for the dairy and food bureau in place of Chas. B. Winter, Esq., of Sunbury, who has been advanced to special counsel for the auditor general's department.

—The Pennsylvansa Railroad company has issued an order to the effect that all engineers and firemen on passenger and freight trains must wear the regulation uniforms, such as the passenger engineers and firemen have been wearing for some time.

—The Grand Castle Knights of the Golden Eagle of Pennsylvania will meet in special session in the hall of Bellefonte Castle Tuesday evening Feb. 14, at 7 o'clock. A number of Grand Officers will be present. There will also be a regular meeting of Bellefonte lodge after which there will be refreshments.

—The men of the passenger crews on the Pennsylvania railroad heretofore known as brakeman are now called guards, the change of name having taken place on January 1. As braking is now done from the engine and the main duty of these men is to look after the safety of the train and its passengers, the name guard is very appropriate.

—Mrs. E. J. Erb of Philipsburg celebrated her 77 birthday Saturday. She has lived for fifty years in that place and can remember when there was only about a dozen of houses in town, the burg then being largely a swamp and wilderness. She is a well preserved lady and enjoying good health. She makes her home with her son, John, the restaurant man. May she live to enjoy many more birthdays is the wish of her many friends.

—On Thursday ex-Judge J. B. McEnally, of Clearfield, celebrated his eightieth birthday, and was given a banquet by the Clearfield County Bar Association. Judge McEnally is a native of Lycoming county, the son of an old-time Methodist circuit preacher, and was appointed to the Judgeship of the Twenty-fifth Judicial district, composed of the counties of Clearfield, Clinton and Center, by Governor Geary July 2, 1868.

—Prof. Booker Washington, the eminent negro educator, was denied hotel accommodations in a Kansas town last week, and had to be entertained by a family of his own race. And this in the state made famous in its early days by John Brown, whose soul is supposed to be "still marching on." And the state too, where some of the first battles were fought for the restriction, and final abolition, of negro slavery in the United States.

—The Concert Company of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music gave a delightful entertainment in the Lutheran church Monday evening to a large audience. The company is composed of four ladies and is a musical company of marked ability. Each member is an artist of exceptional talent in her line of work and together with charming personalities, they possess the grace and ease so essential to a public career. The different numbers on the program were listened to with rapt attention and were heartily encored.

—Miss Henrietta Butts sang a very pretty solo in the Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

—Two freight cars were derailed Monday morning on the Central Railroad track just below the Bellefonte station and as a result the passengers on the morning train had to walk from the foot bridge opposite the Beaver and Hoy row to the station.

—Are you going to have a public sale this spring? If you are, and are wanting sale bills printed, we have the type and facilities to get out any size in a short time, and at prices that will be satisfactory. Also all other kinds of printing neatly and expediently executed.

—A beautiful site has been secured by the directors of the Mahaffey National Bank, at Mahaffey, Pa. They will at once commence to put up a modern banking house, and it is said the bank will not start up business until the new edifice is completed, which will probably be about three months.

—Wallace Brothers, of Milesburg, are busy at work with a force of men putting in the foundation for the new altar to be erected in St. John's Catholic church. The new altar is a gift to the church from Miss Mary Brockerhoff and Dr. Joseph Brockerhoff in honor of the Brockerhoff family. It is to be completed by February 15.

—M. D. Hatch, of Lincoln, Neb., has invented a device for husking corn, taking two rows at a time and missing no ears, whether the stalks are standing erect or lying upon the ground. In a thorough test of the device it was found that twenty acres a day can easily be husked by the machine, which is attached to a team and drawn through a field. Lincoln capital has been interested in the invention and a stock company will be organized.

—"From Rags to Riches" was the attraction at Garman's Opera House Wednesday evening. There was a fair sized audience present and they seemed to be pleased with the performance. The play is a good one and the company as a whole was very clever. Master Howard Rogers played "Ned Nimble," the newsboy, in a very clever manner, but the excellence of his work was badly marred by a failure to articulate clearly and a bad habit of jumbling his words and sentences, so in most cases they are incoherent. Mr. James Morrison played "Old Montgomery" in a manner that was well nigh perfect.

—Vague pains, worse on rainy days, are among the most frequent complaints that physicians and dispensaries are called upon to treat. Dr. James J. Walsh, of New York, states that it is no longer the general rule to attribute these to so-called muscular rheumatism, or a predisposition to uric acid poisoning, but the fact is becoming recognized that the pains result from a variety of causes, largely dependent upon occupation. Different word tends to fatigue different muscles, persons lifting heavy weights being liable to lumbago, while motormen and others who use the legs actively may be expected to suffer from sciatica. Rainy-day pains result from low barometric pressure, which forces the blood to the surface, and causes sensitive nerve endings to be pressed upon just at the time when lack of nutrition from slow circulation makes them irritable.

—Tests made subsequent to the opening of cable communications between the west coast of Asia, across the Pacific, have shown that telegraphic methods of determining the longitude of ports and islands, basing the calculation of their position on time instead of on observations such as are made on ships, are much more accurate than the maritime methods of reckoning. When the first messages were sent westward from this country to Manila for the purpose of testing the accepted longitude of that city, as calculated by telegraph eastward from London, by way of Madras, and also through Vladivostok, the difference noted was only about sixty-one feet, or not enough to cover the diameter of the dome of the Manila cathedral. On the other hand it was found that the Midway Islands, for the first time brought in telegraphic communication with great observatories, had been misplaced more than a mile by the system of reckoning used on ships.

—Few farmers now doubt that scientific farming pays Object lessons of the practical value of many innovations once derided as fads have been too numerous and convincing. The latest illustration comes from Iowa, where one man's tireless and intelligent efforts are credited with adding 100,000,000 bushels to the State's corn crop for 1904. It is estimated that $30,000,000 has been added to the value of this year's crop as compared with previous years and that far greater gains will be recorded when the newly-introduced system shall have become general. The man who has wrought what is almost a modern miracle is Prof. P. G. Holden, of the Iowa Agricultural College. He turned his attention to the matter of Iowa's failing corn crops, thoroughly investigated conditions and found a remedy. He induced increasing numbers of farmers to follow his directions as to the selection of seed and preparing the ground for planting. Only the most perfect kernels from the earliest, largest ears of corn are used for seed purposes and scientific methods for tillage follow the planting. In consequence the average yield per acre rose in one year from twenty-seven and one-half to forty bushels.

—There is a rumor afloat in regard to a new literary club to be organized in Bellefonte. Rumor further says they are to be called the "Porpoises."

—Mr. Francis J. Saunders, of State College, sang two very pretty solo's Sunday in St. John's Catholic church at this place. One at the morning service and one at night.

—We are selling at 40c per gallon the finest all sugar syrup that has ever been sold in Bellefonte at that price. Other grades on about the same basis. Mapel sugar and maple syrup. Saratoga potato chips. Sechler & Co.

—Among the applications for liquor licenses so far filed are three new ones. They are: Charles M. Heisler, Bellefonte, wholesale beer; Geo. J. Kachick, Snow Shoe, wholesale, and Weist & Baldenhoffer, Philipsburg, brewers.

—Among the changes to be made by householders in the spring will be the removal of the McCargars to the new double brick house on Bishop street recently erected by Mrs. Robert Cole. Mr. W. H. Hart and his family have rented the other half of the house.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Kline, of near Bellefonte, have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Annie, to Clark J. Carson. The wedding will take place at the bride's home, about two and one-half miles east of town, Wednesday morning, February 8th.

—An investigation in asylums in the United States, Canada and England, with a total of 16,512 patients, has shown Hobort Langdon only 703 people with light hair, and only 66 with red or auburn hair That is, 96 per cent. of the insane, are brunettes, with brown or black hair. Among the blonde insane, however, the percentage of incurables is much the greater—a fact, like that first stated, for which no explanation appears.

—On Wednesday evening January 25 at 7 o'clock at the Evangelical Parsonage on Willowbank street, Edward Ross Bryan, of Bellefonte, and Miss Margaret J. Fraser, of Pleasant View, were united in marriage by Rev. W. B. Cox. After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Wilson at Pleasant View where a reception was held. Both young people are well and favorably known and we wish them much happiness.

—Rev. David J. Davis, of the Lemont charge of the United Brethren church, has been conducting one of the most successful revival meetings ever held in that section, in so short a period. The meet has only been in progress during the past three weeks, and, up to last Sunday evening, there were twenty conversions. On Sunday evening there were twenty penitents at the altar. The sledding is fine and sled loads from Valley View, Boalsburg, Oak Hall and State College were there. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity.

—On Wednesday morning John D. Lucas, of Altoona, died at his home there from disease incident to old age, he having reached the age of 83 years on November 17 last. He was a native of Centre county and served throughout the Civil war in the One Hundred and Forty-eight regiment Pennsylvania infantry. He was a retired employee of the Penna. railroad wheel foundry. He was a member of the First United Brethren church of Altoona and the Pennsylvania Railroad Relief. On March 25, 1881, he was married to Miss Annie M. Confer, of Tyrone, who with one daughter, Eva, survives him. Deceased is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Levan Taylor and Miss Rachel C. Lucas, both of Centre county.

—The two schools in Spring township, closed two weeks ago on account of smallpox in the Taylor family, were reopened Monday morning. The one at the old red school house is being taught by Mrs. Lucas, who prior to her marriage was Miss Rebie Jodon, and who taught school several years in that township, while the Hoy school, on the Jacksonville road, was taught by Fred Chambers, son of Col. and Mrs. E. R. Chambers, of this place. The grammar school in the brick building, Bellefonte, taught by Miss Gertrude Taylor, was also reopened on Tuesday with Miss Alpha Hafer, a High school graduate of the class of '04, as teacher. The above have been engaged for only one month when the Misses Taylor will again resume teaching.

—While waiting for a car at Grazierville to come to Tyrone about 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, George G Schatzer died very suddenly. He was about to come here with a basket of eggs for J. K. Ray. Mr. Schatzer was a native of Germany, and with his wife, who survives him at the Grazierville home, came to this country in the year 1860. He was about 73 years old. For many years the deceased worked for Rev. Robert Hamill, now deceased, in Penns Valley, Centre county, and he was widely known in that and adjoining valleys. He had been a resident of Blair county for the past twenty or twenty-five years, being employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company and for some years was a faithful employe of the tannery. He was a member of the German Lutheran church. He was a big hearted, honest, industrious German, strictly faithful to every trust reposed in him. He was the friend of everybody he knew and all who knew him were his friends.

On Sunday evening Mr. Rupp who is possessed of a fine tenor voice delighted the audience at the Reformed church by rendering a beautiful solo entitled "The Liety of Life."

—J. I. Kane, the Singer Sewing Machine agent, of this city, tells the following bear story. The other day he was over in Stone Valley on business and late at night was driving back to Pine Grove Mills, he came to a clump of pine trees, when suddenly his horse stopped and refused to go on. In looking into one of the high trees he plainly saw a large bear He did not stop to interview Mr. Bruin but urged his horse past the spot and lost no time in getting to his destination. He told some hunters at Pine Grove and they organized a party the next day to hunt for the bear. Mr. Kane assures us that this was a real live bear that he saw.

Items of Interest from Over the County.

David Neese aged abou 76 years, died Monday evening at his home south-east of Penn Hall. Interment was made in Heckman's cemetery Friday morning. He is survived by his aged wife and four daughters.

The Pennsylvania railroad has issued notice that, beginning Sunday Jan. 21, a charge of five cents per day will be imposed upon all articles forwarded under the rules governing the transportation of packages, and not called for within twenty-four hours.

A birthday party was held at the home of E. L Stover, of Aaronsburg, in honor of their daughter, Flossie, it being her thirteenth birthday. Her little friends were all invited and a very pleasant time was spent She was the recipient of many nice presents.

Veterinarian John Bilger, of Pleasant Gap, is confined to his home suffering from a stroke of paralysis which left his right side perfectly helpless, though the past day or two there has been a slight improvement in his condition. As this is the second stroke Mr. Bilger has had, his friends are much concerned over his condition.

The annual banquet of the Pine Grove High school will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall on the evening of Feb. 10th, '95, when a good program will be carried out, such as declamations, essays and dialogues, interspersed with good music. One hundred and fifty invitations have been issued and a social and profitable time is looked for. E. C. Johnson was elected president and G. B. Mc Fry secretary and treasurer.

Kathryn, infant daughter of Dr and Mrs. F. J. Pond, died very suddenly on Wednesday morning of bronchial pneumonia. A letter written on Monday stated they were all well, so doubtless the baby was not ill more than a day. She was born April 3rd, 1904.—State College Times.

On Tuesday evening at the home of E. S. Tressler at Rock Springs, a party was given their daughter Mamie, by her young friends, it being her eighteenth birthday. Miss Mary had been decoyed from home and on her return was greeted with shouts of merriment. The evening was spent in games and music and songs and Mrs. Tressler furnished bountiful refreshments for all so that the evening was one long to be remembered by those present,

On Tuesday evening of this week about 40 of the friends of Mr. and Mrs W. B. Henderson met at their home in Howard and gave them a genuine surprise. It was in honor of Mrs. Henderson's birthday a good time in general was enjoyed by all. At the usual time all partook of a sumptuous repast which had been prepared by the ladies, to which all did justice. At an early hour, and after the numerous presents were viewed, all departed for their several homes hoping to meet them on many more such occasions.

One day this week the members of the Presbyterian church living at Jacksonville and Howard made up a two horse load of provisions and J. Will Mayes and Harry McDowell drove to Milesburg with it to the home of their pastor. Rev. Carver, who greatly appreciated the kindness of the people.

Mrs Margery Walker, widow of the late Jacob Walker, died at the home of her son-in-law, Philip Resides in Boggs township. Deceased was eighty-six years of age and is survived by one son, Milliken, and three daughters, Mrs. Philip Resides, Mrs. D. Foorman and Mrs. Cyrus Lucas.

Samuel Reesman died at his home at Fairbury, Nebraska. His death was caused by cancer of the stomach. Mr. Reesman was a former native of Millheim and a number of years ago moved to Nebraska. He was married to Sarah J. Musser, a daughter of the late ex-Sheriff W. L. Musser, who, with six children, three boys and three girls, survive.

O. F. Stover, of Rebersburg, has quit hauling cream for the Coburn creamery and is making preparations to commence to farm for his father-in-law, Jonathan Spangler, the coming spring.

On Saturday, Jan. 21, the Henry Krebs house on Water St., Pine Grove Mills, tenanted by Wm. Randolph, caught fire between the ceiling and garret floor. Fortunately the fire was discovered in time to form a bucket brigade from the nearby dam and the house saved from going up in smoke.

Pennsylvania Lodge 276 I. O. O. F. have a festival billed at their new hall at Pine Grove Mills, beginning February 15th to continue all week. Joe Johnson, of Pine Grove Mills, is nursing his thumb that he got too near a circular saw almost sawing it from his hand.

Christ Schenck is now the happiest man in Howard, look at him and see if he don't smile from ear to ear, and it is all caused by the arrival of a baby girl at his home. Mother and child are doing well.

A fire was narrowly averted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Frantz, at Tylersville. The children upset a lamp and the blaze was started, but Maggie Mechtley, who was present, threw a rug over the fire and extinguished it.

Benjamin Boob, of Penn township, who some time ago was badly injured by the bursting of a fly wheel at the Laurelton lumber company's plant, at Laurelton, has been awarded $2,190.80 damages by a Union county jury.

The wheat plants are protected by the two inches of snow that fell Saturday night. The crop last week when partly exposed to view looked to be in good condition,

Last week while Mr. Breon was hauling ice from the dam near Wolf's Store, his horses became entangled in the lines and before Mr. Breon could get control of them they backed sled and all down over the ice into the stream which was eight feet deep. It took quite a time and a good bit of engineering before the team could be taken out of the water.

Aaron Detwiler, of Linden Hall, who underwent a very serious operation in the Williamsport hospital some weeks ago, has returned home, very much benefitted by the treatment he received.

ACCIDENT AT HOWARD.

New Brick Works Building Collapses and Injures Several Men.

On Tuesday afternoon a serious accident occurred at Howard, Centre county, and two men, Joseph Schenck and Nathaniel Pletcher, narrowly escaped death. A force of men are employed erecting a large building for the new brick works of the Howard Brick company at Howard, and Pletcher and Schenck were among the number. A large frame building had been built and a slate roof put on it. It seems the frame work was too light and the heavy snow was too much for the roof to stand and at about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon while the men were at work it suddenly collapsed without warning.

The accident created great excitement and hundreds of people hastened to the scene. The men were buried under the debris, but they were soon released.

Mr. Schenck was badly cut about the head and a bone in one of his legs was broken.

Mr. Pletcher was badly bruised about the head and body and one of his ribs was broken. Several other men were slightly bruised by fallen timbers.
